To Whom it May Concern:

Our school had the pleasure of having Lou DelBianco perform a program entitled "Making Good Choices." This program was lively, entertaining, and encouraged student participation. He began by keeping an audience of 240 Kindergarten and First Grade students completely intrigued with his storytelling, music, and sense of humor. He adjusted his performance to meet the needs of all grade levels – the Fifth Grade students were as involved as the Kindergarteners.

The themes of the program- respect, responsibility, and tolerance – were brought to life by the songs and stories of Lou's childhood. Simple, but effective props were used to bring the students into his world.

I can highly recommend Lou DelBianco's "Making Good Choices" program to anyone looking to entertain students while getting across this important message.

Sincerely,

Sally Curto
Assistant Principal
